The Government Threatened with Suit by Whisky Dealers.

M'CULLOUGH LOSING HIS MEMORY

Senator Edmunds Thinks England must Adopt a Protective Tariff—Gen. Logan Talks about the Administration.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug 18.—In regard to the recent seizure of a large quantity of whisky shipped to this city from Peoria, Ill., which was alleged to have been in fraudulently constructed barrels with the intention of defrauding the government, it is learned that an order was received in this city to-day from Washington directing the release of all whisky consigned by Messrs. Woolner Brothers, and also that consignments of the Manhattan Distilling company had been released by a compromise whereby the distilling company are to pay the tax upon one gallon of whisky in each eighty-three barrels out of 100 shipped by them, with the understanding that they would file a claim in the United States courts to recover the extra tax so paid. The shipments of the Great Western Distilling company and Zell, Schwabacher & Co. are still detained, pending an investigation by the revenue officials. It is understood there are upward of 4000 barrels of whisky which will be affected by the action of the government, and it is thought the entire matter will be compromised and then taken into the courts. The wholesale liquor men of Philadelphia, representing a capital of $20,000,000, have addressed a letter to the revenue collector of this district concerning the alleged fraudulently constructed barrels, claiming that packages are regularly made, and informing him that unless they are permitted to pursue their business without further interruption they will bring an action against the government for damages sustained.

JOHN M'CULLOUGH'S CONDITION.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—The Tribune this morning says John McCullough in the Bloomingdale asylum is gradually losing all remembrance of his old days on the stage. Capt. Conner, of the St. James hotel, his old business manager, goes regularly to the asylum to see McCullough. The captain thinks the actor is losing ground physically as well as mentally. He has come to think that he owns Bloomingdale as a gift from friends interested in seeing him happy in his old age. He no longer alludes in any way to the stage or as he used to do to engagements which he must start away to fill occasionally. He wants all his baggage packed up to go to Chicago or Cleveland, but shortly forgets all about it and is not surprised or angry if he finds his orders have not been executed. Some times McCullough lying in his room will burst out in recitation of poems or bits of plays in which he has at different times appeared, but this is the only feature of his present condition to connect him with his old triumphs. When Capt. Conner called last, he found McCullough almost indifferent to his presence, so much so that it was difficult to determine whether or not he recognized him. He was in the mild stupor that will more and more characterize his disease. He may die in a month. He may live a year or two. Physicians do not think he will live more than a year.

SENATOR EDMUNDS INTERVIEWED.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—Senator Edmunds and family arrived from Europe yesterday. In an interview last night the senator, in response to a question about the present condition of trade in England, said: "It is depressed very much. I made inquiry wherever I went on that point, and the reply was everywhere the same. The cause is undoubtedly over production, and England has gone on manufacturing until she has glutted all her markets. There is already a wide feeling there that England can only save herself and prevent starvation or emigration among the working people by following the example of this country and adopting a protective tariff policy. Indeed, I think she will be compelled to do so."

ONLY A SCARE.

DETROIT, Aug 18.—Policeman Guyman was taken suddenly sick, turning black in the face, and having a desire to vomit. He suffered great pain and it was said he had the cholera. There were some alarming that it was a true case of Asiatic cholera, while others believed it plain cholera morbus. Several other officers at the same station were taken sick with similar symptoms. There seemed a good beginning for a cholera scare, but an investigation shows that while one or two men have mild attacks of cholera morbus most of them have no such disease. Officer Guyman was suffering severely from constipation, which caused nausea, and an emetic was given which has somewhat relieved him. The others were similarly affected.

IMPORTANT DECISION TO FARMERS.

KALAMAZOO, Aug 18.—In the matter of D. C. and H. C. Reed & Co., patentees of the spring tooth harrows, vs. Charles E. Taylor & [illegible] et al, for infringement of patent, filed in the United States court at Grand Rapids, Justice Stanley Matthews finds for the plaintiffs. The case has been before the courts several years, and involves the entire spring tooth float harrow business of the country for the past fifteen years. By this decision every farmer using, and every concern making any sort of an infringement, will have to pay a royalty. The case is one of the most important ever decided in this country.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS OF THE COUNTRY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Times has long interviews with bankers and business men this morning and gathers therefrom the following results: "The business prospects of the country as indicated by the outlook in this city, which may be regarded as a fair gauge, are improving. In every line of trade not devoted wholly to supplying the luxuries of life, a more hopeful feeling prevails than has been noted for some time. The general depression which so long continued made buyers extremely cautious, but the demand for the necessaries and conveniences of life is increasing, and dealers in nearly every branch of trade express satisfaction with the present and confidence in the future."

A MINISTER CHARGED WITH ADULTERY.

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—Something of a sensation was caused by the arrest late last night of Rev. W. W. Downs, pastor of the Bowdoin square Baptist church, and Mrs. Fred N. Tabor, at the instance of the woman's husband. The case was called to-day but postponed. Mr. Tabor to-day began an action for a divorce on the ground of adultery. Rev. Mr. Downs has been in trouble with a portion of his flock. He asserts his innocence and claims that this action is part of a plot to ruin him and drive him from the church.

SKELETONS EXHUMED.

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—The workmen at the Boston Gas Company's work on Commercial point, Dorchester, exhumed the skeletons of nine adults and five children while making an excavation in Commercial street to-day. The bodies appear to have been thrown in a trench together as they were all found in a heap. It is thought that they are the remains of Indians, as clam shells were found around the bodies as if a feast had taken place at the time of the burial.

LOGAN ON THE ADMINISTRATION.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—Gen. Logan said yesterday: "It is fashionable to say the administration is doing fairly well in coming up to the expectation of civil service reformers. Why, in one single day it changed 100 federal officers to make room for partisans. History has never heard of the like before. When Lincoln came into power he had democrats in office to deal with. Cleveland has removed more officials in a month than Lincoln removed in a year."

THE BELCHER SUGAR REFINING CO.

ST LOUIS, Aug. 18.—Judge Thayer in the circuit court to-day refused to appoint a receiver for the Belcher Sugar Refining company, as petitioned by Wm. Kent Foster of New York last week. He also refused to enjoin the sale of the property as advertised, and after the decision of the court was rendered the sale was had and the property was bid in by Charles I. Hodgman for the bondholders for $71,000, the exact amount of the bonds.

FLEEING FROM YELLOW FEVER.

DALLAS, Aug 18.—The federal authorities have as yet taken no rigid measures toward assisting the state in inspecting or quarantining passengers arriving daily from the yellow fever districts of Mexico. There is scarcely any doubt but the present influx of passengers from the south is due to the presence of the scourge in Mexico, especially at Vera Cruz, where it is epidemic and rapidly spreading.

BAD LAND ILLEGALLY FENCED.

DENVER, Aug 18.—The News Pueblo special says: M. McMullen, a ranchman living thirty miles east of here, was arrested yesterday by a United States marshal for contempt of court in failing to remove fences on government land. McMullen made a show of resisting arrest and was shot in the leg by the marshal. He has 20,000 acres illegally fenced.

SIX MONTHS' IMMIGRATION.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—The number of immigrants landed at Castle Garden since the 1st of January is about 6000 less than during the corresponding period last year. The decrease was most marked during the first four months of this year. There was quite a marked increase in the number of Scandinavian immigrants.

INCREASED WAGES.

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Aug 18.—Ellis & Lessig have notified their heaters, helpers, rollers and others working about their roller mills that their wages have been increased, the increase in some cases reaching as much as 20 per cent., with a prospect of the mills going on double time and plenty of work.

UNFAVORABLE TO THE PANAMA CANAL.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—The Post's Washington special says: The report of Engineer Menocal is very unfavorable to the Panama canal, both in respect to its finances and to the engineering problem.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

BLOWN UP BY DYNAMITE.

DENVER, Col., Aug 18.—The Tribune-Republican's Aspen special says: Near Meeker on Sunday last the cabin of Patrick, James and Robert Egan, three brothers, was blown up with dynamite by unknown parties. James and Patrick were instantly killed. Robert miraculously escaped. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

FUTURE OF THE GRANT FAMILY.

They will Probably Live in New York, and so far as Finances are Concerned will be Beyond Want.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—The Grant family, it is said, will return to their residence No. 3 East Sixty-sixth street, in the fall. There is, however, a mortgage of $60,000 on the house. Just before the expiration of Grant's last term as president he intimated that he would become a citizen of New York on returning to private life. Some of his friends in this city subscribed the money to purchase a house for him here, and the present Grant mansion was selected. There was a mortgage on the property for $60,000, which had a number of years to run. The holder would not cancel the mortgage on account of the high rate of interest it drew. Finally those having the matter in charge paid $40,000 cash for the house and placed $60,000 in bank to the credit of Mrs. Grant, to be applied in discharging the mortgage when it became due. The deed was made out in the name of Mrs. Grant. Until the firm of Grant & Ward started in the $60,000 remained in the bank, but then she transferred it to the firm and that was swallowed up with the rest in the failure. It is said some friends of the family recently paid off the mortgage which fell due during the general's sickness. If it has not been taken up the family will be able to pay it off from the receipts of the sale of the memoirs that will be published in a few months. Lawyers express the opinion that, acting on the advice of his eminent legal advisers, Grant evidently made provision so that the proceeds from the book could not be attached by the creditors of Grant & Ward. The legacy is probably well protected. Besides this sum there is the fund of $250,000 raised for Grant, which was assigned to his wife. The income from this is $16,000, and this is guaranteed.

Congress will undoubtedly pension Mrs. Grant, as was done in the case of Mrs. Lincoln and Mrs. Garfield. That will add $5000 per annum to her income, and it is not improbable that the general's full pay for the remainder of the year may be voted his widow. This would amount to about $5000 more. There is no prospect therefore of the family not being provided for, and if the sales of the memoirs should not be as large as are estimated numerous friends would see that the sons were given opportunities for engaging in business.

THE GRANT MONUMENT.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—The Tribune says: The persons circulating reports about the country to the effect that Gen. Grant's remains will ultimately be removed to Washington are not engaged in a creditable work. There is not the slightest foundation for such reports. The dead hero expressed no desire to be buried in Washington, and his family are well satisfied with the site they chose for his tomb, and are pained over the statements of "thinking friends." The Sun advises New Yorkers to expect no aid from the outside but to build their monument themselves. The Grand Army of the Republic intend to ignore the present burial site and raise a fund for a monument in Washington.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR STRIKE.

A General Order Affecting all the Gould Roads in the Southwest and the Union Pacific Railway.

ST LOUIS, Aug 18.—A meeting of the executive board of Knights of Labor and committees representing the locked out men on the Wabash road and the Knights of Labor employed on the Gould southwest system was held this morning. Resolutions were adopted denouncing officials for attempting to break the Knights of Labor organization and for causing the arrest of members of the organization by United States marshals. It is probable that an order calling out the men on Gould's roads will be issued shortly.

STANBERRY, Mo., Aug 18.—At noon to-day all the men in the Wabash shops went out. Everything is quiet and there are no demonstrations.

MOBERLY, Mo., Aug 18.—Twenty-five men employed on the Wabash road went out to-day. No trouble.

ST LOUIS, Aug 18.—The order to strike on the Wabash road was observed at Moberly, Mo., Springfield, Ill., Decatur, Ill., Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Toledo, but very few men went out. At 3 P. M. the executive board ordered a general strike on all Gould roads west of the Mississippi river.

THE GENERAL STRIKE ORDERED.

ST LOUIS, Aug 18.—The Wabash road has here only two very small repair shops and a small round house, employing all told perhaps fifty men; therefore it cuts but a slight figure in the strike. All these men remained at work to-day, and it is not likely there will be any trouble at this point. The general executive committee of the Knights were in session this afternoon and to-night formulated and issued the following important order:

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY AND TREASURER,
ST LOUIS, Aug 18, 1885.

To all whom it may concern: Greeting—Owing to the persistent fight of the Wabash company against the Knights of Labor, the general executive board deem it advisable to issue the following order to all assemblies on the Union Pacific railway and Gould's southwest system:

To all assemblies on the above lines of railway: All Knights of Labor in the employ of the Union Pacific and its branches and Gould's southwest system or any other road must refuse to repair or handle in any way Wabash rolling stock until further orders from the general executive board, and if this order is antagonized by the company through any of its officials your executive committee is hereby ordered to call out all Knights of Labor on the above named systems without further order. By order of the general executive board.

FREDERICK TURNER,
General Secretary and Treasurer.

It develops that it was the intention of the board to issue this order before the one sent over the Wabash road, as the actual weakness of the Knights was known to the executive committee and there was good reason to believe the effort would be unfavorable, but for some unexplained cause it was held back. The order was, however, telegraphed all over the specified roads this evening and assembly meetings were called at every point to receive it. It is expected to-morrow the real strike will be fairly on.

THE ST. LOUIS HOMICIDE.

A Letter which it is Said Discovers the Real Name and Identity of "Maxwell"—His Denial.

ST LOUIS, Aug. 18.—A letter is published here to-day dated Sunny Bank, Hyde, Cheshire, England, July 17, 1885, and signed Samuel N. Brooks, which speaks of his son H. M. Brooks having left home last January on a business trip to Ireland and that no word has been received from him since. It had been learned, however, he had a curate of an adjoining parish for a companion and that they had indulged in various extravagances and that Brooks' name had got mixed up with the "St. Louis trunk tragedy," and also got mixed up with Dr. Maxwell. The letter shows great distress on the part of the writer and makes an urgent appeal for information in regard to the person concerned in the murder. Part of this letter was shown to Maxwell and he recognized the signature as that of his father and desired possession of the letter to write to his father and tell him that he, Maxwell, was innocent of the murder of Preller and that he had a perfectly good defense. In course of the conversation Maxwell, or as he is now pretty definitely identified, Brooks, said that Preller was troubled with insomnia and he had prescribed chloroform for him on several occasions and with benefit. Preller, however, had heart disease, he said, and intimated that he had taken or had administered to him on this occasion an overdose with fatal result. This will be Brooks' defense when he comes to trial.

"MAXWELL" CONFESSES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 18.—The Chronicle's St. Louis special says: Walter H. Lennox Maxwell, murderer of Arthur Preller, was identified yesterday by Mr. Fernow, a druggist, from whom he purchased six ounces of chloroform. That Maxwell has made a full confession is proved by Detective Tracy's statement made yesterday afternoon, in which he says: "There is not a single link in the chain of evidence missing. There is no doubt, too, that Maxwell's defense will be that Preller died from an overdose of chloroform administered for medical purposes." Maxwell says he has often administered medicine to Preller. He says he has practiced medicine in London and the provinces, having studied at Victoria college and university, but had no diploma.

AND NOW HE DENIES IT.

ST LOUIS, Aug 18.—Maxwell published a card this afternoon denying that he has given any reporter any outline or idea of his defense as published here this morning. He furthermore denied having any knowledge that his name is Brooks, and says no matter what is published he will not talk about the case or give any one an idea what his defense may be. The letter previously referred to, signed Samuel N. Brooks, is genuine, however. It was received here by John D. Vincil, a high officer of the Masonic order. Mr. Vincil replied to it and is daily expecting another letter from the same person. Maxwell was placed in the sheriff's custody and jailed.

R. and speeches were made by prominent members of that order.

COINAGE OF SILVER DOLLARS.

It is learned at the department that there is now quite a brisk movement in silver dollars all over the country. The issue averages about $100,000 a week, more than during the same period of last year, and is slightly in excess of the regular monthly coinage of $2,000,000.

PRINCIPALLY COMPLAINTS.

WASHINGTON, Aug 18.—An evening paper says that over two hundred replies have been received at the treasury department to the circular letter calling for an expression of opinion from manufacturers and importers on the subject of tariff revision. As a rule the contributions have contained more complaint against the ad valorem system than suggestions for its improvement.

ACCIDENTS.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug 18.—A terrible accident is reported from Little Caillou, Terrebonne parish. A few days ago while Emile Erette was engaged in moulding bullets for his gun, he asked his wife to fill his powder horn for him. She was some ten or twelve feet from the fireplace where a few coals were smouldering. The task was but half completed when a gust of wind suddenly blowing through the open door sent a spark straight at the powder, which ignited and a terrible explosion followed. The roof of the dwelling was torn off, three children instantly killed and the mother received such injuries that before many hours she too was dead, while the husband and two children were badly wounded.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

RAILROAD NOTES.

TEXAS ROADS POOL.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—The Times says: The pooling agreement between the Texas railroads formed some time ago has been signed by Huntington, Gould, Clarke and Seney, president of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe railroad. The pool is for a period of five years, but it may be dissolved on sixty days notice of withdrawal. The agreement goes into effect September 1, when the territory will be divided and the earnings pooled. Clarke expressed the opinion that the pool would make the advantageous difference of $5,000,000 per year to the roads. The rates have been advanced.

GENERAL PASSENGER AGENTS' MEETING.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—General passenger agents of various lines met at Commissioner Fink's office to-day, but adjourned without making any progress in the general restoration of rates. NOTABLE DEAD.

ALBANY, Aug 18.—Deputy State Treasurer Edward K. Apgar died this afternoon. Mr. Apgar was closely associated in a political way with Daniel Manning, and was one of the first to push the candidacy of Cleveland for both governor and president.

NOTES AND NEWS.

The amount annually paid to the teachers of the United States is $60,000,000, an average of about $400 apiece.

The estimated value of the natural gas used in the United States in 1884 was $1,460,000, as against $475,000 in 1883.

The majority in the English house of commons that overthrew Mr. Gladstone represented 843,566 electors, while the minority which supported his administration represented 1,177,820.

The Five Nations of Indians were the Mohawks, Oneidas, Cayugas, Onondagas and Senecas. In the year 1712 the Tuscarora tribe retired from the Carolinas and joined the Five Nations, which were afterward known as the Six Nations.

The postmaster at Cleveland is charged with being an offensive partisan and with violating the civil service rules. Singularly enough, the charges are preferred by the Cleveland Plaindealer, whose editor, Col. Armstrong, wants the postoffice.

It is announced that Benjy Butler will surely be a delegate to the forthcoming democratic state convention in Massachusetts. There is something rather improbable about this statement. It is more likely that Butler will be the whole convention.

Texas papers say that that great state will have the largest cotton crop ever raised in the state—so large that a portion of it will go unpicked and be left to rot in the fields unless some arrangements can be made to secure an extra supply of picking labor.

The Century company is said to possess the last autograph signature made by General Grant. It is an endorsement on the back of a $1000 check sent him as a grateful acknowledgment of the value of his articles after the stipulated price had been paid.

Old fashioned democratic friendliness is what Brother Hendricks says exists between himself and Mr. Cleveland. If Brother Hendricks had his own way about it there would be a closer relationship than this—a copartnership with a brass knob on the door and a sign over the transom reading "Hendricks & Cleveland, Office Brokers. Business transacted with neatness and dispatch."—Philadelphia Press.

A COMPLAINT OF UTAH BANKERS

Hot Day at Walla Walla—Oregon Accidents—A Vessel Comes into San Francisco Harbor with Yellow Fever on Board

OAKLAND, Cal., Aug 18.—Robert Mitchell, a barkeeper at San Francisco, shot and fatally wounded his mistress, Minnie Siquert, on Broadway street near Ninth, one of the most public places in the city, this afternoon. The cause of the act is said to be her refusal to live with him. Mitchell has been arrested and jailed. No hopes are entertained of the woman's recovery.

Mitchell is a son of the late Thomas A. Mitchell, who was cashier in the tax collector's office under Alexander Austin, and not a son of ex-Tax Collector Mitchell, as previously stated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Col. Denby, United States minister to China, sailed to-day by the steamer Rio Janeiro for his post. He was escorted to the steamer by Col. Bee, Chinese consul, and several officials of the Chinese consulate general. The latter were bearers of many handsome floral gifts of various designs. Regarding the statistics of Chinese arrivals furnished him by Surveyor of Port Morton, Col. Denby remarked that they differed from those furnished by the Chinese consul by several thousand.

WITH YELLOW FEVER ON BOARD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 18.—The city was startled this afternoon by the news that the Norwegian bark [illegible] from Acapulco to British Columbia had put in here with the Panama yellow fever on board. The captain reports that one sailor died with fever on the trip up and several others are down with the same disease. He put into this port for medical assistance. The vessel has been quarantined and officers are now investigating the disease.

UTAH.

AN ANNOYANCE TO BANKERS.

SALT LAKE, Aug 18.—Bankers and mining men here complain of the last order of the treasury regulating the distribution of standard dollars. Heretofore any man could get silver dollars delivered to any point without freight charges by applying to any mint of the United States. By this last order all this is changed. If a banker here wants $5000 or $10,000 silver dollars and sends to San Francisco for them he has to deposit the amount to purchase them with the assistant of the United States depository, upon which a certificate of deposit is issued, which must be forwarded to the treasurer of the United States, who will order its delivery [illegible] as they may elect. At the present rates of freight here $1000 is worth thirty-three and one-third cents a day. By the length of time now required to get money here through the round about channel the man who needs money finds it cheaper to pay express charges and receive it at once. The discrimination is made clear by the fact that this only applies to standard dollars. A person can get all the subsidiary coin he may [illegible] direct from the mint. The result is great annoyance to bankers and business men.

STATE DISPATCHES.

KILLED BY MISTAKE FOR A DEER.

ASHLAND, Aug 18.—Wm. Shepherd was found dead last night on the high prairie about fifteen miles from town with a bullet hole in his hand and through his body. A neighbor finding his horse tied up with a deer strapped on which had begun decaying, concluded something was wrong and immediately commenced a search which was rewarded in a short time by finding his body. The supposition is that somebody shot him in mistake for a deer, as he was an old hunter and could not have shot himself.

THE DISCOVERER OF GOLD

The New York Papers Moralize on Marshall's Death.

NEW YORK, Aug 18.—The papers this morning print quite lengthy obituaries of Marshall. The Tribune and Herald have editorial comments.

The Tribune says: "There is something melancholy about the story. The great wealthy state of California owed it to herself to protect James W. Marshall from want at least and ought to have testified in some way her recognition of the service he had done the commonwealth and the world, while the fact that this service resulted in his own ruin ought to have quickened the state's sense of justice and liberality. But the same indifference which has left every trace of the old mill race at Coloma to perish [illegible] to record the source of the golden stream which flowed so long and splendidly, has refused assistance to the declining years of the discoverer. And so he has passed away."

The Herald presents a lively picture of Marshall's discovery, which it says was in February, near the town of Coloma, where three men, one of them Marshall, were repairing the damages caused by a freshet.

MARSHALL'S DAUGHTER

Found a pretty stone which was the nugget that aroused the astonishment if not the avarice of the world. The secret could not be kept and found its way East. Lawyers without briefs, physicians without patients, ministers without sermons or sermons so poor that no one would listen to them, together with tens of thousands eager to mend their fortunes, including thieves of every possible grade, poured into the country.

The Sun has the familiar version of the discovery varied by more inaccurate details.

SUTTER NOT MARSHALL.

An old Californian writing to one of our papers deprecates the silly and groundless censure of California now appearing in Eastern journals because she didn't take better care of Marshall, the gold discoverer, and says:

Marshall was one of those peculiar characters you couldn't do much with or for. The writer says he saw him in his camp on the hillside at Coloma a few weeks after he discovered gold. He was then and afterward more concerned in hushing it up and preventing the knowledge of the discovery getting into the valley than in anything else in the world. He was morose, taciturn, irritable and thoroughly selfish in all his aims. Major Reading and George McKinstry, who were with me, suspected his mind was unsettled, and from his subsequent conduct I have very little doubt it was. The account he is alleged to have given, and which is now appearing in a variety of forms in the eastern papers, of the discovery and how he made it known, also of the persecutions to which he was afterward subjected, was drawn largely from an excited imagination, otherwise it is a deliberate invention. Our party was the first of the white men to visit the Coloma mines after the discovery, and we took down to the valley

THE FIRST CONFIRMATION

Of the fact in the shape of a few small particles washed out after considerable labor by Major Reading. Inasmuch as similar results had for years attended similar labor in the gold placers near San Fernando, a few leagues from Los Angeles, and because of Marshall's careful guarding of his secret, our party, which included Captain Sutter, went away firmly of the opinion that the area of the mine or placer was limited, and that its productiveness would not greatly exceed other placers known in Northern California and Sonora. Under this conviction I printed in the California Star at Frisco that week my advice to mechanics and laboring men to stick to their settled occupations and not to yield to the gold fever, which was probably another false excitement for the new community was excited and unsettled over the reports of the mineral discoveries that spring. The man to whom California and the eastern states owe most for the enterprise that uncovered the gold of California and threw it open to the world was Sutter, to whom our government denied simple justice, and whom the country allowed to go to his obscure grave a ruined and a broken hearted man.

DRAKE AND MARSHALL.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug 18.—Under date of August 12 the Times prints a full and accurate account of Marshall's discovery. It says: "The history of Colonel Drake, the discoverer of oil in our own state, furnishes a parallel case to that of Marshall and Sutter. Although his discovery led to the enrichment of thousands of others and to the development of an industry which in a single quarter of a century has arisen from nothing to an annual value of not less than sixty millions, Drake secured nothing from it and would have died a pauper but for the pension of $1500 a year paid him by the state for the last five years of his life."

A SHAMEFUL BUSINESS.

Democratic Protest against the "Offensive Partisan" Policy.

Special to Minneapolis Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Aug 11.—A short time ago the Hon. John McSweeney of Ohio, who was one of the leading attorneys in the memorable Star route trials, visited Washington and remained some time. To-day McSweeney called upon the president and entered a strong protest against the "offensive partisanship" policy of the administration, telling the president that it was having a most disastrous effect in Ohio, arraying neighbor against neighbor and relative against relative, inducing the perpetration of perjury and destroying the peace of whole communities; that the result would evidently be disastrous to the administration and the party. What the president's reply was has not been ascertained, but there is no doubt that Judge McSweeney's protest will have great weight so far as future action is concerned. Judge McSweeney in the course of the conversation is reported to have said:

"If you want to turn men out because they are republicans, do so, and put your action squarely on that ground, but don't let us have any sneak thief business or slander mongering, and we can stand that. This new policy will insure our defeat in 1888 if it is kept up."

If reports are true the president has had a vast deal of this kind of talk during the past month. Most of it has come, too, from men of almost an equal prominence of Judge McSweeney. It is the very best class of citizens who despise the offensive partisanship business, and who can see how it disrupts neighborhoods and ruins society and will wreck any party that will perpetuate it. Removals will likely be made without so many affidavits being required when the president returns to work next September.

An inspection of the affidavits filed in the first assistant postmaster general's office for the purpose of removing postmasters now in office shows that the wire pullers are using the lowest creatures to swear to affidavits that no decent democrat in the respective communities would put his name to. In many instances the affiant can only sign his name in such execrable scribbling that the clerks have the utmost difficulty in making out the name. The bodies of the affidavits all show superior penmanship, indicating that the leaders draw them up and then get ignorant drunken loafers and rounders to swear to them. This is done for two reasons: First because decent men will not perjure themselves; second because suits for slander would be brought against such affiants were it not that nothing could be made by obtaining a judgment [illegible] execution proof. This [illegible] a [illegible] condition of affairs enough to cause any honest man to blush. If this is not offensive partisanship, too, what is?

World Embracing Cheek.

Boston Record.

It should be noted that there is such a thing as the progressive cultivation of cheek. Beginning with the individual it extends to a neighborhood, to a municipality, to a state, to a nation, until finally it reaches its most illustrated development [illegible]. Evolution as applied to cheek has never received the attention it merits. The earlier stages are familiar to all observers, but the more advanced and exaggerated development now seen in the case of New York appealing to the churches of the entire country to take up collections to build a Grant monument for that city, and the appearance of John Bull on our shores asking the United States to chip in toward building a Gordon boys' home for London, excites general amazement only because we have as a people failed to appreciate the growth and the possibilities of cheek [illegible].

The Result of Obstinacy.

Milwaukee Sentinel.

The republican reformers hope to bring their party to a complete recognition of the importance and propriety of civil service reform affecting all departments of the government. Their work has been retarded by the untimely bolt and obstinate pride of opinion of Mr. Curtis and his friends. They still hope that a sound judgment may lead those among Mr. Curtis's followers who think more of the success of the reform than of their personal pique to unite with them in this work, which can be accomplished only within the republican party.

San Francisco's New Rival.

San Francisco Alta.

The arrival of a British bark with a cargo of tea at Tacoma is sufficient excuse for the Denver Tribune-Republican to speak of that prosperous little city as "San Francisco's rival." San Francisco has had and still has a great many such rivals. Much less pretentious ones than Tacoma have believed themselves very formidable. Every little inlet on the coast where there is room to wedge a ship in between the rocks flatters itself with the idea of being a future rival of San Francisco.

The civil service law will have a hard time in the forty ninth congress, but it will survive the ordeal, not because a majority of that body like it, but because most of its enemies will not dare to assist in its destruction. SEA COAST DEFENCES

The publishing house of G P Putnam's Sons, New York, has begun the publication of a series of "Military Monographs," the first of which is a dissertation on "Our Sea Coast Defences," by Eugene Griffin, first lieutenant corps of engineers, U S A. It is a large pamphlet, covering the subject pretty broadly It shows that our country has no sea coast fortifications worth the name that all our principal ports are open to attack, and that our seaboard cities in any war with a power that can send modern vessels against them will be exposed to destruction Lieut. Griffin presents a clear statement as to the power of modern guns and their tests upon modern armor, and points out what it is necessary to do to place the ports of the country in condition of efficient defence One of his tables shows the amount of destructible property now exposed to an enemy at a few principal points, viz Portland, Me , $[illegible] Boston, $471,470 [illegible] Cambridge $60,000,000 Newport, $21 [illegible] New York, $1,855,308 047 Jersey City $111 704 162 Brooklyn, $605,489 473 Philadelphia, $259,[illegible] Baltimore, $21 114, [illegible] New Orleans, $176,397,116 San Francisco, $18[illegible], 633. These figures are based on the total assessed valuations of 1884, and their sum makes a total value of $4,[illegible]29,117,241 In fact, however, the value is twice as great. Besides, there are a great many ports of less importance equally exposed.

We have no defences anywhere that are of slightest value against iron-clad vessels supplied with long-range heavy ordnance. Lieut. Griffin reminds us that the iron plating of ships of war has been increased from four inches, the thickness of the plates upon our first iron-clads, to twenty five inches on the English ship Inflexible, and that when a practical limit as to the thickness of iron plates seemed reached, compound armor and all steel plates were introduced. Recent British ships carry eighteen inches of compound armor, and the Admiral Baudin and Formidable of the French navy are protected by solid steel plates twenty one and seven-eighths inches in thickness

Heavy ordnance has increased in weight and power to a like extent. Whereas in 186[illegible] our 200-pounder Parrot rifle was one of the most effective weapons extant, we have, in 18[illegible], the English 17¾ inch, 100-ton gun, firing a projectile weighing one ton with a powder charge of 550 pounds, and in 1884, the 16¼ inch, 110-ton Armstrong, which fires an 1800-pound projectile, with the enormous charge of 900 pounds of powder giving a muzzle energy of [illegible] 200 foot-tons, and a penetration of over thirty inches of wrought iron at 1000 yards. The recent Krupp 16¾ inch steel gun weighs 119 tons, and penetrates 39 inches of iron at 1000 yards and the projected French gun is to weigh [illegible] tons, with a caliber of 18 11 inches and to fire a projectile weighing 2645 pounds, with a powder charge of 675 pounds Cast iron shots were replaced by chilled iron years ago, and now forged steel has come to be regarded as the best material that can be used against armored ships or forts The manufacture of steel projectiles has been carried to the greatest perfection in France, Germany and England, and their great tenacity has been demonstrated on many occasions To give a single instance In A[illegible] 1883, Sir Joseph Whitworth in testing a 30-ton steel gun intended for the Brazilian ironclad Riachuelo, fired a 403-pound steel shell through eighteen inches of wrought iron, thirty-seven inches of well packed wet sand, one and one-eighth inches of steel, [illegible] of timber, and about sixteen feet more of sand. The projectile was recovered practically uninjured. Recent experiments have shown that the 80 ton gun projectile will penetrate twenty five feet of granite and concrete masonry or thirty two feet of best Portland cement concrete, and it is now universally admitted that no masonry should be exposed to such fire It is estimated that seventy feet of compact sand, or equivalent thickness of other material is necessary to stop heavy projectiles at close range

Our defences are actually in a worse condition to-day than they were years ago The limited appropriations have not sufficed even to keep them in repair There is not says Lieut. Griffin, a harbor on our coast that cannot be captured with comparative ease by an iron-clad fleet properly armed and equipped there is not a single important power in the world which does not possess such a fleet. New York would be doomed So would San Francisco and every other seaboard city Immunity could be secured only by payment of enormous sums of money and whatever was demanded it would be necessary to pay Such indemnity might amount to one thousand millions of dollars, or even more

The author of this interesting monograph discusses plans of defence In his opinion a complete system of sea-coast defence consists of three lines. The outer line is composed of war ships, the second or skirmish line of torpedo boats, and the third or inner line of land fortifications and channel obstructions, usually fixed electrical torpedoes Besides these, there should be a reserve of war ships, torpedo boats and launches, gunboats, etc. The first two lines and the reserve constitute the naval defence The outer line is frequently wanting, either through accident, or design or lack of ships. The second line is a comparatively recent addition to the defence, but has been adopted by all nations, and now constitutes a [illegible] part of the system

The third line of defence [illegible] is most important of all The batteries should be placed in armored turrets, made to revolve in cases where [illegible] essential they should be placed at distances not less than seven miles from the cities and should have a minimum [illegible] in weight of metal to those of any possible attacking squadron

In pressing this subject upon the attention of the country Lieut Griffin justly says that one of the strongest arguments in favor of adopting means of defence is the fact that complete protection means not only security of property, tranquility of business and facilities for offensive operations in case of war, but also means protection against war itself History shows that there is no surer means of avoiding war than by such a thorough preparation as leaves no weak point exposed to an enemy's attack and no temptation to [illegible]

PARSON NEWMAN

Perhaps J P Newman's connection with the [illegible] obsequies is very generally and very justly criticised in the East. Newman is a man of a good deal of learning and ability, with a natural inclination toward snobbery For twenty years he has been a hanger-on about men of great wealth or reputation and has gained celebrity by connections of a sort which degrade his calling as a minister of religion It will be remembered that last year he preached the funeral discourse over the body of Leland Stanford's son at San Francisco speaking of the young man as a "reproduction of Christ." It is said that he caused the delay of the Grant funeral so that he might have time to prepare an elaborate funeral sermon He has been offensively conspicuous in the whole Grant business The report by telegraph a day or two ago that the Methodists would make him a bishop is a piece of foolish speculation The Methodists have once thrown him over and it is not likely that they will take him up again to heap honors upon him. Whatever else may be said of Methodism it is modest and sincere, and men of the Newman style find no favor in its ranks.

I am anxious that your administration should be a success and not be disturbed by any of these fights To the end that peace and harmony might prevail I would suggest that you appoint my son.

THE CALIFORNIA ROAD.

Trade and other organizations in San Francisco, and political and other conventions in the northern California counties, continue to memorialize the management of the Central Pacific railroad to continue its California and Oregon branch to connection with the Oregon and California road at Ashland. The Oakland Times, writing of this matter, says "Evidence accumulates in Northern California that the necessity for the completion of the Oregon and California railway becomes greater every day Congress should study carefully the question of its relation to that improvement." The Record Union of Sacramento, which speaks for the Central Pacific management adds

By stopping the road, we have lost the Oregon trade hindered the settling of Northern California and administered punishment to the California jobbing trade and to the general prosperity of the state which will be felt for many years to come. The [illegible] was [illegible] cumulative [illegible] shaded and concluded long ago There is not a [illegible] Northern California [illegible] the facts [illegible] sufficient to go [illegible] of the [illegible] who does not know that the resolution not to [illegible] the road was a severe blow to the whole state and immediate injury to the trade of California and that the resolution was the inevitable result of the demagogical assault of the blatant fellows who assume to be the people's champions. [illegible] influence they may be admitted to have possessed Of course congress should give serious attention to the question But if only the people of San Francisco had taken harm by the diversion of trade consequent upon the assault upon the California and Oregon road, there would be entertained no regrets that the road was not built since that people most deeply and profoundly interested not only failed to protest against the wrong but by inaction and timidity became parties to it It is a very serious question indeed whether it is not too late to retrieve the error of the recent past in this matter

It is evident that the Central Pacific management intends to teach the people of California a lesson, and to this end it will delay the building of the road so greatly needed. An effort will be made to secure an extension of the land grant, denied last winter, but it is not likely to succeed. The days of land grant aid to railroads are passed, and it is pretty nearly certain that when built, the Oregon line will be built simply as a business enterprise

There are many reasons why it is better for Oregon to remain without a through line to California. A return to California trade connections would be a step backward, and Portland, particularly, would suffer from it. If the road were completed, it would be a part of the policy of the Central Pacific to encourage trade with San Francisco Rates would be made permitting goods brought to San Francisco over the Central Pacific's through line to be reshipped over its northern line for little or nothing The company could well afford to do this as a means of increasing its transcontinental business, and of taking business from its transcontinental rivals. Much of the trade of this country which now comes to Portland would go south as formerly to San Francisco The effect of a through line would be to make San Francisco a rival of Portland for the trade of Portland's own field

Portland is singularly weak in having no permanent hold on the business of her own field She is weak in that she affords the country about her no market If the people of Oregon and Washington found here an advantageous market, then they would continue to come here to buy no matter what the connections might be to other points of supply but they are compelled to sell their products, if they sell them at all, elsewhere, and they are naturally willing to go elsewhere for their supplies. Portland will continue weak as a jobbing point till she and the country about her are connected by reciprocal interests. At present the interest is almost wholly one way

The [illegible], in an article on the death of Marshall who has been called the discoverer of gold in California says

[illegible] Marshall's [illegible] was [illegible] which will fix his name in history [illegible] not pretended that he was literally the first person to discover the existence of gold in any part of California The Mexicans had picked [illegible] in many places and there had been some desultory efforts by them toward washing out the golden dust But when Marshall stumbled on his luck it was one of those fortunate moments when the times are ripe for great events and they follow from circumstances that at other periods would scarcely attract attention The gold discovery was the spark but the previous conquest of California by the United States contributed to the [illegible] for the astounding occurrences of the next five years Had California remained a Mexican province the rush of immigration would have been comparatively small and the majority of the placer diggings would still be undeveloped and undiscovered

All newspapers and correspondents in the eastern states have had their guess as to the origin of the correspondence between the president and an unknown western man, which has attracted so much attention in Oregon The chief of the Washington bureau of the New York World now writes

I [illegible] regard the correspondence [illegible] A prominent senator tells me the correspondence came from something brought out against Low of Michigan who was not long ago appointed on the Utah supreme court bench It is said it has been cleared that Low cannot be confirmed The president's indignant letter to one of his most prominent indorsers was written to a [illegible] Michigan [illegible] Don M Dickinson [illegible] unquestionably refers to him.

Brother Hoby appears to be extremely anxious to exchange the position of pedagogue in the public schools of the city for that of official stamp-licker at the postoffice When his vacation began he quietly started out "up the road," giving it out that he was going for rest and recreation to the trout streams of the Upper Columbia river But probably thinking that the trout might not bite well, and concluding that if he let them alone they certainly wouldn't bite him, he seems to have kept right on over the divide, never stopping till he got to the ear of Postmaster Vilas Such now is the general impression as to his whereabouts. His "claims" for the postmastership of Portland are these two, to-wit He is a mugwump, and he knew Vilas in Wisconsin

The mugwump organs have a hard time of it trying to keep democratic officials within the rules of civil service reform This from the New York Times, is addressed to the new collector of the port of New York

[illegible] collector Hedden [illegible] "will the civil service law itself be observed here both in its letter and in its spirit" We [illegible] this observation attributed to him in the Brooklyn Eagle. Does it mean that in the opinion of the collector the civil service law is a mere temporary obstacle in the way, [illegible] who wish to fill the offices on the old spoils plan

E. K. Apgar, whose death is reported this morning, has been for some years past the "boss" of the rural democracy in New York, holding relatively about the same position John Kelly has held in the city He has been a very active and important man, not always scrupulous, but above the "common run" of politicians. Apgar has been credited with having originated the scheme to make Cleveland president even before he was elected governor of New York, and of having promoted his nomination for the governorship with the presidency in view

Severe weather is reported from east of the mountains Yesterday the thermometer marked 11[illegible]° in the shade along Snake river and 108° at Walla Walla Nothing like this heat was ever known before, and our reports state that business was entirely suspended Singularly enough, it was unusually cool at Baker City, the thermometer marking only 8[illegible] At Portland the highest point was 81° The cool west wind which prevailed here last evening was doubtless an effect of the heat east of the Cascades.

The friezes about the new High school building are elaborate The designs adopted are evidently those best calculated to freeze out the taxpayers.

About three weeks since while T M Howe bookbinder was on a hunting trip up the Columbia a small abrasion was made on his heel by his boot. Since his return it has grown worse, till his entire foot is covered by a sore The doctor in charge apprehends no serious results but so much pain from so trifling a wound is very annoying to Mr Howe.

The barrel of ice water provided for gratuitous use by the W C T U and Y M C A and placed in front of the hall of the latter corner of First and Salmon streets is well patronized This would indicate that the Skidmore fountain should not be placed in the plaza but on a well frequented thoroughfare where many might resist the temptation to frequent saloons if they could obtain free a harmless cool drink

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

AN OREGON INVENTION.—An exhibition of a novel improvement in gas reflectors, styled the "Diamond Reflector," was given last evening at the Gilman house. The principle of the improvement is the leading of the gas from the main pipe of the gas fixture through four burners and consuming it in front of four reflectors made of metal and having bright, mirror-like surfaces of nickel plate In the ordinary gas burner all the flame comes through one tip The Diamond reflector simply makes four flames of the same amount of gas ordinarily consumed in one, and in addition gets the whole of the light from each by reflection from the nickel-plated surfaces. It is claimed for the invention that it will give twice as much light as the ordinary single burner consuming the same amount of gas, that it more completely consumes and burns the gas, and does away with the spattering and flickering so common in gas jets that the contact with the nickel-plated surfaces softens and mellows the light and takes from it the quality so injurious to the eyes, and that it is both economical and gas saving as well as highly ornamental to a room. The test was made before a number of people, and was most successful in demonstrating the points claimed

THE TOPICS.—Sporting men about town are getting very warm over the turf contests to take place at City View park late this month The $5000 trot will draw an immense crowd from all parts of the state. Opinion is about equally divided as to which blood will tell in the contest. Altamont's friends claim that his backers have the best of it, as they have three horses to select from—Almonette Oneco and Cyclone. The last named arrived this week from Jacksonville. He was taken from the pasture and, it is said, is not in condition for a race. All three are in training at J J Hallett's place Lute Lindsay has Jane L. and Susie S in training at the Gentlemen's driving park A well known turfman gave it as his opinion last night that the race would be between Jane L. and Almonette, and it was just like tossing "heads or tails" to bet on one or the other. The running race on the 30th for $500 a side is going to be no slouch race George Winters is by Joe Hooker, out of Abbie W., and is 7 years old, Jim Lick is by Imported Haddington out of a Norfolk mare, and is the same age Messrs. Silvers and Nebeker have each put up the $150 additional forfeit and barring accident, there will be a lively contest.

THE MALCOLM-ROBERTS WEDDING.—An event expected in Portland social circles took place in the Hotel Vendome, in the city of New York, on Wednesday, the 5th inst. It was the marriage of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Roberts, daughter of Mr Andrew Roberts, to Philip Schuyler Malcolm, formerly of Oswego, N Y, now of London, England The marriage took place in the parlor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fishel, the officiating clergyman being the Rev Dr Lindsley, who incorporated the solemn words of the ancient church in a ceremony which was peculiarly appropriate to the persons and the occasion Though the wedding was private there sat down to a sumptuous supper the following guests Mr Clarence Carry, Mrs Fanny Roberts, Master Frank Roberts, Mr and Mrs. Goodkind, Dr and Mrs. Lindsley, Mr and Mrs Chas Fishel, Marc and Rose Fishel, besides the giver of the feast, Mr Roberts, and the bride and bridegroom. The best wishes of a host of friends will follow the happy pair across the ocean

"PROHIBITION DAY" CELEBRATION.—The Portland Prohibition club met at 204 Third street, on Monday evening, Chaplain Stubbs presiding The ladies and gentlemen present engaged in earnest discussion on the best method of advancing the cause It was decided to make special efforts to enlist not only older and experienced men, but especially young men just coming into the responsibility of voting, before they become allied to either of the old liquor licensing parties, also to largely increase the circulation of Eastern and local prohibition papers A committee on literature was appointed to submit some feasible plan to accomplish that end After the admission of some new members, a committee was appointed to arrange for the public celebration of Wednesday September 23d Prohibition Day in the temperance centennial week, Mrs. L. Johnson to have charge of the musical department. A very fine programme is promised Adjourned to meet at the same place, Monday, August 24th, at 7:30 P M

TRUANT HUSBAND.—A few days since a woman carrying a baby in her arms called at the police office and complained that her husband, one J F LeTallec had deserted her and gone off to Astoria with another woman The police could do nothing for her, but the chief gave her a note to the chief at Astoria, asking him to render the woman any assistance in his power in her effort to recover her truant husband The following from the Gateway Herald shows what success she had "Yesterday a woman named J. F. LeTallec was arrested on a charge of being of unsound mind She was brought before his honor Judge C. A. McGuire this afternoon, and after examination before Drs Fulton and Baker, she was declared to be of sound mind It was a case of domestic difficulties." It is evident that the scoundrel LeTallec has charged his wife with being insane in hope of getting rid of her. It is to be hoped that the authorities of Astoria may find some way of punishing him

SMOKE DISAPPEARING.—About sunset the smoke which has overhung this section for some days was observed to be disappearing, and in a short time the blue sky and the stars could be seen. A gentle west wind had sprung up, caused probably by the rarified state of the atmosphere in eastern Oregon, and at the present writing indications are favorable for the removal of the annoying smoke. It can be spared, although it was all we had to growl about. Readers of THE OREGONIAN, as they scan the dispatches from all parts of the world daily and read of cholera in Spain, France and China, yellow fever in Mexico, smallpox in Canada, cyclones in our sister states, the Salvation army in England, and fires and failures everywhere, must feel that we are blessed beyond our deserts and wish that the smoke would hold on a while so that we would have something to complain of

AT THE SEASIDE.—Following are arrivals at the Seaside house, Clatsop beach, since the last report T C Powell, Frederic N Jones, Dr P Keene, I. Jacobs, J. Gaston, Miss Gaston, W A Dimmick, Mrs. H McCraken and children, Louis Goldsmith, E. R. Adams, Misses M., C and E. Rodney, C. H Libby, Miss Bessie Thompson, A Thompson, G J Bills and N W Durham, Portland Judge F J Taylor, W. J Barry George Holland and John Betts, Astoria A D Finick, wife and son, Walla Walla. The weather is delightfully cool For the past week the hotel has been comfortably filled, and the number of arrivals and departures is about equal, so that all guests can be well accommodated

LANE COUNTY MINES.—A correspondent from Harrisburg writes "The new mines on Blue river, Lane county, are creating a good deal of excitement. There was some work done on the croppings of the ledge now known as the 'Treasure,' some sixteen years ago, but the solid ledge is now surely found It is forty inches thick on the croppings, and fifty inches thick at a depth of ten feet. A true assay of the rock has not yet been made but it is certainly very rich, much of it containing gold visible to the naked eye. Some very fine specimens have been picked up in the last few days. The 'Treasure' was discovered and is owned by Messrs. Seymore, Gilbert and Dowler

EXCURSION TO ODD FELLOWS' ORPHANS' HOME.—An excursion and basket picnic will be given by the trustees of the Odd Fellows' Orphans' Home, to the Home farm, near Fairview, on Saturday, the 29th inst. The proceeds will be donated to the fund for building the Home. The affair will doubtless be largely attended, not only by the members of the order, but by the public generally, as the object is worthy, and the occasion will be an enjoyable one. The hours of departure of trains, etc., will be announced in due time.

DEATH.—Rev A. J. Joslyn, of Ketchum, Idaho, came to this city on Friday last with his son Charlie, 12 years of age, who had been ill for some months, to consult a physician on his case On Saturday they went to the residence of Rev H. K. Hines in East Portland, where the son died on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Joslyn, who was at Baker City was telegraphed, and reached the city yesterday morning The funeral of the son will occur from the residence of Dr Hines to-day at 10 A. M

THE GREAT PRIMA DONNA.—The sale of seats for Clara Louise Kellogg and her concert company will commence on Friday morning, at Prentice's music store, at 9 o'clock, instead of Thursday morning, as previously announced There will be no reserving in advance of this time, which will give the first coming the first chance

EXTRAORDINARY HEAT.—Yesterday was the hottest day ever known in eastern Washington. At Riparia the thermometer registered 112, at Dayton 105, at Walla Walla 108, at Wallula 105, at Umatilla 108, at Pendleton 103, at Baker City 85, Blalocks 95, Celilo 94, The Dalles 90. In Portland the maximum temperature was 81.

THE OREGON EXHIBIT CAR.—The work of arranging the material gathered in the exhibit car is being pushed so that it will be ready for Allen to start east with it on Monday next. What is now needed to complete it is a good supply of fruits and vegetables that will keep for a couple of months, and also two or four-quart samples of wheat oats and barley of different varieties. Any one able to furnish anything fine in this line will confer a favor by doing so.

RETURN OF THE CIRCUS.—Probably the best evidence of how much John Robinson's show pleased the people of Portland is the fact that his big tent was filled at both performances yesterday The show appears to-day at McMinnville, to-morrow at Corvallis, Friday at Independence, Saturday at Hillsboro They then go to the sound and return here for two more performances on Friday, September 4.

WILL COME WELL "HEELED."—The Victoria baseball club are not coming over here prepared to be beaten Their change pitcher is almost equal to the disabled man, but to make assurance doubly sure, they will bring along the regular pitcher of the Port Townsend club, and he is no small potatoes. The first game with the Portlands will be played next Saturday at the Oaks.

THREE DWELLINGS BURNED

A little before 10 o clock last night a fire broke out in the residence of J. M. Nelson in the east[ern] part of Albina, about two blocks south of the railroad machine shops Mr Nelson was sitting reading and the first thing he knew the ceiling of the room was all in a blaze. It is supposed that the fire caught from a defective flue The building was soon in a blaze and the fire caught the residence of James Randall a locomotive engineer who had shortly before left on a freight train The citizens turned out and organized a bucket brigade. They worked vigorously, but the intense heat soon drove them back Chief Engineer Morgan, of this city, arrived with No One's engine, but some delay took place in finding water At length a hose was laid about 1600 feet to a well on the Terminal company's grounds In the meantime the large two-story wooden building occupied by Mrs J Ladd as a boarding and lodging house had taken fire, and the engine got water too late to save it All three of the buildings were burned to the ground. Mr Nelson's house was one and a half stories and worth $1200 There was no insurance A considerable part of the furniture was saved The house occupied by Mrs Randall belonged to Capt Foster and the furniture therein to Mrs Ladd who rented some of the rooms It was a two story house worth about $1500

The house occupied by Mrs Ladd also belonged to Capt Foster It had lately been improved by the addition of bay windows etc. and was worth $4000 It was insured for $2500 The furniture belonged to Mrs Ladd and was all new she having moved in only a few weeks since It was valued at $4000 and she had $2000 insurance on it in the Phoenix A portion of the furniture in Mrs. Ladd's and Mrs Randall's was saved The ground for blocks around was littered with furniture, canned fruit etc The residence of Mrs McKenzie near Mr Ladd's, was saved by the engine company, who, protected from the heat by some doors threw a good stream upon it. The furniture was all removed. The fire lighted up the horizon and the river and a large number went over from this side to see it

THE EAST SIDE

DESERTER ARRESTED

A man named Henry Greif applied to John Parker the blacksmith for work about two weeks ago and was employed for a few days. A night or two after he left the shop was broken into and tools to the value of about $45 were stolen Greif was suspected and Parker swore out a warrant for his arrest in Justice Coleman's court It subsequently developed that he was a deserter from the United States army Constable Thorn succeeded in arresting him yesterday and forthwith took him to Vancouver and turned him over to the United States authorities. He had lately traveled under the name of Henry Tanner

J J Upchurch founder of the A O U W will visit Fidelity Lodge [illegible] East Portland at their regular meeting to-morrow evening, and a fitting reception will be given him

Circumstances connected with the recent burning of Mrs Chambers's house in Stephens's addition substantiate the suspicion of arson A light was seen in the building immediately previous to the fire breaking out and a coal oil can was found under the stairway where the fire originated

A man named Buford who came from Vancouver to attend the circus, was looking for the ticket office in East Portland early last evening, and was taken charge of by the marshal. He had had to be too much in preparing for the occasion and lost his reckoning and will now have to wait until the circus comes along again

The improvements to Ladd's wharf adjoining the ferry landing are progressing as fast as a force of thirty men can speed them Nearly all the timbers upon which the projected box factory will rest are in position and the driving of piles for the extension of the wharf to Water street will be completed to-day At the present rate of speed the improvements will all be completed by the 1st.

IS TRANSCONTINENTAL WORTH 25 1-2?

A Boston house has issued a circular on the value of Oregon Transcontinental in which it seeks to prove that the stock is worth 25½, as against the present value of about 20 This does not take into account the fact that some doubt naturally arises as to whether Oregon Navigation assets could at any moment realize their value on the basis of present prices. Generally it can be taken that an average rise of 1 per cent. in Oregon Navigation, Northern Pacific preferred and Northern Pacific common improves the Oregon Navigation assets just 0.875 per cent or say ⅞ of 1 per cent. In this proportion Oregon Navigation should sympathize with the movements of the stocks which make up 84 per cent. of its assets The circular says There are $3,353,000 bonds upon all the branch lines of Northern Pacific at $20 000 a mile The current value of Oregon Navigation more than offsets the debt of $11,500 000 leaving $ 32,000 as the market value of Northern Pacific stocks and $3 00,000 of other assets The interest charges against the company on $11,500 000 are $610 000 on the $8 000 000 and $164 500 on the $3,500,000 total $797 00 They say a dividend of 5 per cent. on Oregon Navigation will yield the company $7 5 460 and its income from other sources is $100 000—$526,460—which will take care of interest charges This is assuming that the cost of administration will not be more than the difference between income and interest charges $2[illegible] 000 It is stated that among the miscellaneous assets of Oregon Transcontinental is a block of 18 714 shares of Wisconsin Central common The following is the showing which the circular makes for the Oregon Transcontinental company

16 000 Oregon Navigation		$11 5 000
50 Northern Pacific pfd at 47		[illegible]
112 114 Northern Pacific com at		487 000

THE CITY LEVEE AGAIN,

The Portland & Willamette Valley Railroad Company Begin Action to Get Possession of the Property.

Upon Auditor Curry's arrival home from the seaside Monday evening he was waited upon at his residence by Sheriff Jordan, who served papers upon him in a suit commenced in the state circuit court by the Portland & Willamette Valley railroad vs. the city of Portland. The object of the suit is to obtain possession of the city levee The plaintiff is a corporation formed for completing the narrow gauge system of railways to this city At the last session of the legislature was passed a bill entitled "An act to provide for the construction to the city of Portland of the unconstructed portion of the narrow gauge system of railroads now in operation in western Oregon, and to provide terminal facilities therefor upon the public grounds within said city" This bill was approved, and by it was granted to the railroad company all that part of those certain premises situated in the city of Portland commonly known as the public levee, as lies immediately south of and adjoining Jefferson street, including streets in the boundaries of said public levee, and the right to use and occupation of the Willamette river adjacent thereto sufficient distance to obtain a depth of water sufficient for the navigation of the largest sized ships that come to this port Also the right to lay and use a single track of its railway on the street known as Water street in said city of Portland from the south line of Sherman street to the levee One of the provisions of the act was the plaintiff should within six months from its passage commence an action against the defendants for the purpose of determining the value of the property or the value of the interest the city has in it, and for the purpose of appropriating said property for railroad purposes The six months specified is about up and this suit had to be commenced to prevent forfeiture of the benefits granted in the act. The bill of complaint which is signed by William Reid alleges that the city has or claims to have some title to the property in question and that the plaintiff and the defendant are unable to agree as to the interest of the city in said premises and this suit is brought for the purpose of determining said amount and appropriating said property for railway purposes. The papers are in the hands of City Attorney Tanner who states that the city will fight this case to the bitter end

PUGET SOUND M E CONFERENCE.

TACOMA Aug 17

Monday morning at 8 30 the devotional service introductory to the conference were led by the Rev J L Osborn and at 9 o clock the conference was opened in due form Some remarks important in their nature were made by Bishop Walden in regard to the reading of the scriptures at all church meetings the use of the Lord prayer congregational singing and other matters required by the discipline

The conference then proceeded to business. The committee on missionary needs presented its report The discussion arising upon the greatness of the work now opening in the Puget sound conference decided the conference to ask the general missionary board for $8000 for the coming year

A resolution was then presented by Rev J N Dennison acknowledging the special providence which preserved the lives of Revs D G LeSourd J. W Dobbs and John A. Tennant from a watery grave in the Nootsac river was adopted by a rising vote and the singing of the doxology.

A notable event in the morning session was the admission on trial into the conference of a remarkably bright, cultivated, and educated Chinaman Chow Hon Fan He has been laboring during the past year in the Chinese mission at Portland and commands the highest respect and confidence of all who know him, and was admitted with the impression that the native members of the conference must look well to their laurels or they will be taken by a native of China.

The report of the committee on conference university presented its report which was recommitted to the committee for more perfect outline of work to be done

Various reports were adopted and at noon the conference adjourned to meet at 2 P M at which time various reports were presented and some adopted and others recommitted for more perfect formulation

The committee on education presented its report which was adopted

The Rev F P Tower agent of Willamette university being present, was invited to address the conference in behalf of Willamette university which he did in terms earnest hopeful and eloquent making an excellent impression upon the conference

Mr. Tower is doing a great work for education in the Pacific Northwest which doubtless no other man among us could perform as well The annual attendance now rises above 300 students The property of the university is valued at a low estimate at $60 000 The various endowment funds have reached about $40 000 The social moral and religious influences of the school are unsurpassed on the Pacific coast and parents may send their children there with the greatest [illegible] [illegible]

At this session the secretary's table was nearly cleared of reports The conference will probably adjourn sine die at the evening session or at the latest, to-morrow (Tuesday) morning In the absence of the bishop, Rev I Dillon D D presided very efficiently proving himself equal to any parliamentary cyclones which might otherwise have tangled the conference

EVENING SESSION

Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev Robert Phillips Rev D G LeSourd, in absence of the bishop took the chair The conference then proceeded to clear the secretary's table of all reports As this task advanced the bishop came in and took the chair

General thanksgiving resolutions were then adopted Dr B F Crary was then called upon by the bishop to tell the conference how good he felt He arose and convulsed the audience with his indescribable wit which put the conference into splendid frame of mind to receive their appointments or disappointments as the case might be After a few remarks from Rev Dr Hines, and a few preliminary matters, the scriptures were read and a hymn the 810th was sung Dr Hines led in prayer Bishop Walden read the appointments and the conference closed its second annual session by adjourning sine die

THE HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In regard to the article on the new High school building published in last evening's Telegram, I have to say in reply to the statement made therein by Prof Crawford that I never failed to meet all my obligations in connection with the carpenter work on the High school building until Saturday last, and should not then had the board of directors met their obligations to me according to contract There is a stipulation in my contract with the board that I shall receive an estimate of 75 per cent on the amount of material furnished and labor done, at any time I may need the money as the work progresses

On Friday last I applied to the architect Mr Wm Stokes for an estimate and was told by him that he must first consult Mr Goodnough the contractor put in as a superintendent of the building by the board of directors. On Saturday morning I spoke to him again and he told me that according to his estimate I was entitled to about $300, but that Mr Goodnough had said that I had over drawn on the last estimate, and therefore was not entitled to a payment, although he and the architect made the estimate as called for by me. On Monday the board came to the conclusion that I was justly entitled to the amount I asked for, and at 10 o'clock I was furnished the money (with[illegible] [illegible] want of the men in my employ and the firms [illegible] receiving their money according to my agreement with them and consequently I was hindered and delayed in the prosecution of the work and damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars.

I am the only one of the various contractors bound to pay $ daily for failure of $35 in case of non-completion of contract by the specified time, August 29

Owing to defective drawings and loose specifications the board required of me extra work amounting to several thousand dollars and had I received pay for this extra labor and material furnished perhaps I should not have required aid in meeting my obligations.

Making reasonable allowance for the time consumed by the extra work, I shall complete my contract according to the agreement

CHAS R DELURGH,

EXPOSURE AND CONVICTION

The information contained in the report made by the hygienic authorities of the nation, on food adulteration, is not only valuable, but suggestive The people of this country are getting to a point where they will not much longer brook the trifling with adulterators. In this connection we wish to say that we believe that the public will not forget the Price Baking Powder Company, for their effort, heroic and single-handed as it was, to bring the bread tainters of the world to exposure and conviction The issue of their war was purity in human diet, and the decision of the National Food Analysts was that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder was the only one they could recommend to general family use, being free from ammonia, lime and all drug taint.

BOGUS JOURNALISM.

Just to show that it is going on still, we present the following. The same issue of the bogus journal from which this is taken has a good deal more of the same kind though it is only fair to say that in consequence of former exposures the extent of these operations has been much curtailed and the bogus journal is a loser in consequence It would be easy however to parallel still a considerable quantity of this stuff every day but it is only necessary to do it to sufficient extent to show that the fraudulent work is still going on

COMMERCIAL.

TUESDAY, Aug. 18.

Cooler weather rules to-day, but the smoke does not drift away.

The Oregon left this morning with a full freight, including 750 tons wheat and 243 tons oats. Thick weather delayed the Columbia outside and she will not be at her dock before 10 P. M.

Jobbers were fairly rushed yesterday, but are less crowded to-day.

Late harvest reports from Austro-Hungary are rather favorable, and that country will have quite a quantity for export. Russian advices confirm the report of a bad harvest in that country. The Russian Southwestern railway is advancing money to farmers on wheat consignments.

Scotch millers have formed a combination to sell their product for future delivery. They quote best baking flours as far ahead as January, and the prices, reduced to American figures, are on a basis of 7c per bu. for wheat in St. Louis. This is done in order to compete with American millers, whose flour arrives in the United Kingdom one and two months after sales are made.

John Dunn & Co., millers at Adelaide, say of the wheat crop of South Australia: "Foreseeing that there would be a wide discrepancy between the press and the official estimate, we have had independent returns prepared by our agents throughout the colony, and contrary to our expectation, these returns confirm the official figures, according to which the exportable surplus for the whole year is reduced to 280,000 tons. Of this quantity 227,000 tons have already been shipped off, leaving a balance of only 53,000 tons, which will be diminished to 20,000 tons, when existing European engagements have been fulfilled." The colonies will carry over a very small quantity of wheat into the coming season.

London dates of July 29 say that reports from the hop plantations are favorable, and although lice seem inclined to stick in some places, yet at the present moment there is every prospect of a large crop. Reports that have appeared are calculated to mislead, as lice are not general throughout the plantations and don't cause general anxiety. Reports from all districts on the continent continue favorable.

Overland receipts include 1485 cs coal oil, 15 cs lubricating oil, 101 bls sisal grass, 2 cars flour mill machinery, 80 qr 80 hf bbls beer, 50 ctes hams, 15 ctes shoulders, 4 cs dates, 2 cs figs, 5 cs raisins, 3 cs pineapple, 15 sks nuts, 600 cs candles, 2 sks coffee, 100 cs lye, 1 bl hops, 6 cs extract, 2 cs cigarettes, 201 pkgs tobacco, 60 bxs nails.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past twenty-four hours: 5388 ctls wheat, 1408 bbls flour, 2740 ctls oats, 150 ctls barley, 40 ctls millstuff, 6413 lbs wool, 108 cs. eggs, 10 bxs fruit, 4 pkgs butter. Also 20,903 ctls wheat, 187 bbls flour, 168 ctls oats, 100 lbs hides, 67 bxs fruit, 400 melons from the eastern section.

EXPORTS—Per str Oregon: 14,560 ctls wheat, 1163 ctls barley, 2865 ctls oats, 30,176 lbs wool, 37 dry hides, 5 bls deerskins, 100 sks bones, 50 tons pig iron, 1 hf 22 bbls salmon, 11 rls leather, 10 cs eggs, 6 bls 1 cs blankets, 2 cs flannels, 9 cs cassimeres, $16,072 treasure.

FREIGHTS—Another wooden ship has been taken up at San Francisco to come here, presumably at 42s 6d. Others are said to be inquired after for the same business. Our own market shows nothing of interest. Report says the B. F. Packard has been taken up to load wheat at Tacoma for Portland account.

WHEAT—Receipts large yesterday. Trade is slack and values weak, $1 17½ and $1 12½ being quoted extremes for valley and Walla Walla, the latter enjoying some request from San Francisco operators. Advices from abroad are of a lower turn, New York and Chicago continuing on the down grade.

OATS—The situation seems less buoyant and, although advices are still favorable, operations are less sanguine, fearing a lower turn in barley as wheat declines. For shipment 35c is the general bid, the 1c more occasionally noted being either for fancy parcels or for retail lots. Poor grades in neglect.

POTATOES—No demand from dealers, as they are freely supplied from wagons.

ONIONS—A few lots of new Oregon have arrived, the receiving price being 1c.

PROVISIONS—Ample supplies are had although local may not be well distributed. Some dealers say they have plenty that can be brought forward in good time. Values show no change.

FRUITS—Local in good supply without value changes. Fresh California will be on market in the morning.

CHICKENS—In fair request as very little wild game is marketed. Prices show no quoted change.

EGGS—Some dealers asking an advance on 20c for fresh. Receipts fair.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Governments were dull, but strong. During the first hour stocks were very feverish, irregular and generally weak. The opening prices were unchanged for Grangers and Union Pacific and from ⅛ to 1¾ lower for other active shares. Within little more than thirty minutes after opening Union Pacific further declined 2 per cent to 49¼, which was the lowest quotation of the day for that stock. Western Union fell 1 to 69⅝. Others fell off materially also. After 11 o'clock the market became more quiet, and in the next two hours the early losses were in many cases recovered and something more, the highest prices of the day being frequently made. During this time Pacific Mail was prominent for strength, selling up to 52. The market again became heavy later in the day. In a majority of cases the lowest prices of the day were made shortly before the close of the board. Pacific Mail declined 1c and other stocks fractional amounts. The final dealings were accompanied by renewed feverishness. There was in many cases a slight rally from the lowest prices in the final dealing, but the market closed weak, with net losses of 1 to 2½ per cent., the latter including Reading. Northern Pacific preferred, Union Pacific and Omaha preferred, each one among the comparatively active stocks. Those which resisted the pressure most successfully were Pacific Mail and Oregon Transcontinental.

In mining shares the only feature was heavy dealing in Caledonia Black Hills, which was suddenly resurrected after years of inactivity. Iron Silver sold at $1 10, Horn Silver $2 20, and Bodie $1 95.

NEW YORK DRY GOODS MARKET.

In dry goods, imported, demand with jobbers continued and good business in progress. Agents are doing a healthy and good trade, but chiefly through deliveries on old and new orders, which are taking a large quantity of stuff. Bleached cottons are in good movement. Brown cottons and Canton flannels are feeling the effects of duplicate assortments rendered necessary by the distribution effected and the demand at hand. Dress and print goods, soft dress fabrics, ginghams, flannels, blankets, men's wear, woolens, Kentucky jeans, shirts, shawls, underwear, hosiery and knit goods, reflect evidence of better trade in sight.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

WASHINGTON.

Garfield county has 3437 inhabitants, according to the late census.

The residence of Emmett Hunt, at Wollachet, was burned Monday. Loss, $300.

The counties of Spokane, Stevens, Adams, Lincoln and Douglas contain nearly 16,000 inhabitants.

The sage brush on the Moxee hills caught fire Monday and several thousand acres were burned over.

Fred Fink was struck by a piece of broken windlass at Alto, August 17, and his left thigh badly mashed.

Wm. Page's shingle mill at Tacoma was burned on Monday, August 17. Loss, several thousand dollars. The machinery was insured for $1600.

Four thousand bushels of wheat, 1500 bushels of barley and 600 bushels of oats were threshed on the Simcoe reservation government farm this season.

George Jones, a son of Thomas R. Jones, at work at Wm. Gage's logging camp on the Skagit, was crushed between two logs last Tuesday afternoon, receiving internal injuries from which he died twenty-three hours after. A physician was sent for, but the boy died while being carried home from the camp Wednesday afternoon. He was a very bright, promising young fellow of about 15 years of age.

Spokane Falls Review: There are now at the depot thirty-two tons of ore from the Old Dominion mine near Colville, which will be shipped next week to the reduction works at Omaha. Besides this another large lot is expected in soon, which will go to Butte to be worked up. The ore has been picked out with care, and it is expected that the returns will be much greater than from the first large shipment to San Francisco. One of the members of the company will accompany the ore through to Omaha.

Seattle Chronicle: A gentleman who returned Sunday night from Franklin, reports a serious accident having occurred at the tunnel on the Cascade division three miles from Franklin, Saturday afternoon. A large force of men was engaged on the tunnel. During the afternoon a portion of the tunnel caved in, burying under the mass of earth one man entirely and nine others partially. The man who was killed had charge of timbering the tunnel. Dr. Kalloch, of Black Diamond, was sent for and attended the injuries of the men upon arrival. The slide of earth was caused by striking a large vein of quicksand.

BOB TOOMBS ON "HISTORY."

General Bob Toombs has been telling a correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal why the confederacy failed. He says some things that are not without value to history. He is especially severe on Jefferson Davis. Says Gen. Toombs:

The South could have succeeded had it not been throttled by West Point. The presidency of the confederacy was offered to me and declined. When South Carolina, with singular stupidity, wrapped itself around Jefferson Davis, Mississippi was not so insane, but could not, out of courtesy, vote against her own citizen. Hence Davis became president, and West Point was the school from whence he drew his ideas. He had graduated from that institution, and could never be brought to realize the fact that men in civil life knew anything. He filled his commands with West Pointers, and he stuck to them through every reverse. The martinet discipline of that institution was the only reliance of Mr. Davis.

Under whom could the confederacy have succeeded?

Albert Sidney Johnston was the one man who could have certainly succeeded, but death cut his career short. Joseph E. Johnston came next. When Jefferson Davis, inspired by domestic intrigues, removed Johnston from the command of the western army, he killed the confederacy. Davis was thoroughly incompetent. His forte was review writing. He would have been a successful magazine man, but in the bustle of practical, every-day life he was utterly lost. My personal feeling for Mr. Davis is of the kindest character, but that does not remove the facts of history.

Void and not Void.

Chicago Evening Journal.

Attorney General Garland furnished to Secretary of the Navy Whitney an opinion to the effect that the contracts of John Roach for building the war steamers in process of construction at his ship yards were void. On the strength of this decision Mr. Whitney refused to accept the dispatch boat Dolphin, and withheld the pay due to Roach for other work. He has now announced that, in accordance with the terms of the contract, he shall occupy Roach's ship yard for the purpose of completing the war ships under way. In other words, when it comes to accepting Roach's work and paying for it, the contract is held to be void. When it comes to seizing and confiscating his ship yards the contracts are held to be valid. It appears to be an aggravated case of either stupidity or dishonesty.

The Liquor Question in Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 11.—The whisky men of this city are on the warpath, and propose to use all measures in their power to stop the march of prohibition. They have organized a protective liquor dealers' association, with George Lemon president, A. M. Muller secretary, and Lawrence Fragiacomo treasurer. Circulars have been sent to all saloon men in the state, urging them to vigorous action, and calling a state convention to meet in this city August 17, two days prior to the democratic convention, to discuss ways and means. They claim it will be largely attended, as the whisky men are in dead earnest to throw as many stumbling blocks as possible in the way of prohibition. The date of the convention is very significant.

The Children's Beverage: Girardelli's Chocolate. Unexcelled for purity and flavor. 12

INSTANTLY RELIEVED.

Mrs. Ann Lacour, of New Orleans, La., writes: "I have a son who has been sick for two years; he has been attended by our leading physicians, but all to no purpose. This morning he had his usual spell of coughing, and was so greatly prostrated in consequence, that death seemed imminent. We had in the house a bottle of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, purchased by my husband, who noticed your advertisement yesterday. We administered it and he was instantly relieved.

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S

It has stood the test of 30 years, and is so harmless we taste it to be sure the preparation is properly made. Accept no counterfeit of similar name. The distinguished Dr. L. A. Sayre said to a lady of the haut ton, a patient: "As you ladies will use them, I recommend 'Gouraud's Cream' as the least harmful of all the skin preparations." EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.
